

Wanda:

I have enclosed a copy of the original email that I sent to Dennis Himmelberger, Bill Glaser, Penny Morgan and John Sinrud.

Hospitals are not alone in using therapy pools. Private physical therapy facilities, private health clubs and public aquatic facilities (all of which are becoming more popular) are incorporating therapy pools into their facilities.

As an example, I have enclosed design specifications done by OLC Aquatics from Denver Colorado, (a professional aquatics consulting firm) that was for the Whitefish Community Aquatic & Health Center. They have (4) four bodies of water including a lap pool, therapy pool, activity pool and spa. Please note that the design criteria for the therapy pool is more stringent than for the lap pool. Water in a lap pool is circulated once in (6) six hours whereas the therapy pool is circulated once in (2.5) two and a half hours.

I ask you to review the above referenced sections and re-insert "aquatic therapy and therapeutic and hydro pool, whirlpool," into the language.

Thank you for your consideration.
